

We apologize for the confusion around recent changes for Pay Later Preorders so allow me to provide this official clarification.

The old company we used for Pay Later orders is no longer going to take orders after July 15. We have been in contact with them over the past month and it has been difficult to get them to commit to what would happen after July 15th. Now that we have past the 15th we know a bit more, but things may change again. For now, however, this is the official update at this point in time:

1. Pay Later Preorders entered prior to approximately July 10 are under the old system.
2. Orders under the old system are still available, so you don't need to reenter them in new system.
3. On the Compass Games website for now you are still able to see the old system orders. We don't know if and when those orders may disappear from the website.
4. Our computer department is working on getting the new system orders on the Compass website so you can view them.
5. If you paid at the time of purchase, there have been no changes.
6. The new system is available to take Pay Later Preorders.

If you have placed an order in the old system you don't need to reenter in the new system.

Thank you for your patience and understanding during this transition, and thank you for your support of Compass Games.
